

OCTOBER NEWSLETTER ROOM 9

Dear Families,

Happy Fall Everyone! October will be an exciting and busy month! Our fifth and sixth year students are off to McCall for MOSS Camp and our fourth year students get to participate in Science Week with Maddie. Emails outlining the week went out mid-September, let me know if you have any questions.

This month our fourths will focus on the building blocks of life by studying cell structure and examining the Periodic Table. They will also “adopt” an element and create a baby book all about the element they choose. It’s a fun way to introduce the Periodic Table!

The fifth year students will begin looking at the Classical Age through many ancient civilizations and the accomplishments humans made during this time. We will study philosophers and their contributions as well.

Our sixth grade will jump right into their year-long Island Projects by researching the types of islands then establishing longitude and latitude of their imaginary islands. After that they will create their first island map showing the Geography. As you can see all grade levels will be working hard!

We have had a great start to our book club and homework routine. Included in your child’s homework book are detailed instructions and Maddie and I both spent a lot of time training the kids. Let me know if anything remains unclear.

In regards to book club we will take a short break after this round to participate in an all school book club. Once that is concluded we will resume our normal routine. I will send emails out requesting volunteers or you can let me know in advance if you can help.

Have a wonderful start to Fall!
