

OCTOBER NEWSLETTER ROOM 4

Dear Room 4 Families:

I just wanted to take a few minutes and let you know that the children in the classroom are doing so well! The children are eager and excited to back with one another and it is just a joy to watch and be a part of! Thank you for allowing your children back with myself and Ms. Kimber. The children are so normalized and choosing challenging work off the shelf; they want to learn just everything. It is so much fun for all of us!

Morning circle is at 9:15 daily. At this circle we introduce new materials and start our day as a group.

Please bring in a 4 X 6 family photo for our peace table.

Please bring a reusable bag for work to be taken home in

This month, we are really on focusing on concentration in our Room 4 community. Concentration is the key to a child's natural development and all learning takes place in a state of concentration.

How can you foster concentration at home?

Your children always benefit from opportunities to concentrate on an activity. You can provide these opportunities at home by providing space and, most importantly, time for them to focus on just one thing.

Areas of Focus :

- parts of a leaf
- parts of a pumpkin
- parts of a mammal (horse)
- parts of a skeleton,
- parts of a bat
- parts of a pumpkin.
