Dear Room 5 Families;

Can you believe it is March already? The children are excited for the sunshine and nice weather to come!

Geography/Cultures

We will be studying the continent South America this month. We have puzzles, three part cards, flags and pictures that we will be using. Our studies will help us to identify the continent geographically and learn about the people, foods, music, and animals of the different countries of South America. If you have an interesting South American artifacts, story, music or post card please feel free to share with the teachers.

Arts

In March we are studying American artist, Andy Warhol. Did you know that Andy Warhol was taught to draw by his mother and grew up in Pennsylvania? We will study and discuss some of his awesome pop art.

Amphibians

We will be learning about amphibians this month. We will be talking about the differences of amphibians and reptiles, identifying parts of a frog, and looking for evidence of amphibians in our waking garden. If your child has any books they would like to share with the class we would welcome their added research resources!
